

Pharmig's current series of Zoom Webinars for 2022

FEES FOR EACH WEBINAR - £70pp Pharmig Members / £100pp Non-Members

Viral control in pharmaceutical manufacturing Wednesday 23rd Feb @2pm – 3pm (BST)

Led by Dr Tim Sandle

Viruses present a challenge for many biotechnological products, either being present in starting materials or introduced into the process (including from humans). This webinar looks at:

- Viruses of concern
- Products at risk
- Facility design to minimise viral risks
- Viral removal steps
- Test technologies
- Viral control strategies

Getting it in safely: Cleanroom and aseptic transfer Thursday 21st April @2pm - 3pm (GMT)

Led by Dr Tim Sandle

There is a contamination control hierarchy with the different methods of transferring items into an aseptic area. This webinar reviews the following:

- Autoclaving / depyrogenation tunnels
- Automated cycle decontamination chambers.
- 'Dynamic' pass-through hatches with HEPA filtered air supply.
- 'Static' pass through chambers with no air supply.
- Personnel transferring items (e.g., via changing rooms).

The strengths and weaknesses of each process are discussed, along with the available technologies and critical bio-decontamination aspects, focusing on the important criteria for device assessment and operation.

Approaching error risk reduction: Making your labs more compliant

Wednesday 1st JUNE @2pm - 3pm (GMT)

Led by Dr Tim Sandle

It is well established that regulators do not like the root causes of deviations to conclude 'human error' and for the resultant corrective or preventative action (CAPA) to recommend additional training. Instead, regulators expect organizations to go deeper and to unpick the underlying reasons as to why a person made an error and, from this, error risk reduction actions can be initiated.

This webinar looks at:

- The 'what' and 'why' of human error
- The 'true' causes of error
- Chunking and subchunking tasks
- Developing human error checklists
- Root cause analysis
- Trending error

FEES FOR EACH WEBINAR - £70pp Pharmig Members / £100pp Non-Members
